

Carrier Dispute Process – Quick Reference Guide

What is a Dispute

A dispute is a formal request Carriers submit via email when they believe a defect in Carrier Central is inaccurate. Carriers use this process to contest defects that impact their performance metrics.

When to Submit a Dispute

- Wait until defects appear on your account - Don't submit based on automated emails
- Check your Performance Dashboard every Tuesday after the weekly update
- Download the 8-week Excel to see carrier-caused defects
- 7-day deadline: Submit disputes within 7 business days after Tuesday's dashboard update
- Only the ISA creator can dispute - Third parties cannot submit on your behalf

Which Email to Use?

For Carrier-Caused Issues:

ibdp-defect-disputes@amazon.com

- Carrier Caused Reschedules
- Carrier Caused Cancellations
- NCNS (No Call No Show)

For Shipper-Caused Issues:

prepaid-sc-disputes@amazon.com

- Shipper Caused Reschedules
- Shipper Caused Cancellations

Note: NCNS (No Call No Show) cannot be disputed as shipper-caused, as carriers are responsible for canceling or rescheduling appointments they no longer need

Email Format Requirements

Subject Line Must Include:

1. SCAC Code
2. ISA Number
3. Site Code
4. Defect Description

Email Body Must Include:

1. Specific defect type (reschedule, cancellation, deletion, NCNS)
2. All relevant details for research
3. Attached documentation (PODs, shipper confirmations) as PDF or screenshot

Required Documentation

	Required Documents
If you're disputing a NCNS	-Signed/stamped POD from FC -Trailer number and Tractor License plate number
If you're disputing a reschedule or cancellation caused by your shipper	-Seller/Vendor name and pickup address including city, and state -Documentation from shipper confirming they caused the issue -Brief description of the situation
If your reschedule or cancellation was caused by the Weather	Origin (including city and state) - Route to the FC

Important Reminders

- One ISA per case: Multiple ISAs in one case will be resolved without action
- Defects must be visible: If it's not in your Carrier Central Performance Dashboard, we can't see it either. Therefore, it won't be disputed, and the case will be resolved without action.
- Team hours: Sunday-Friday, 6:00 AM - 4:30 PM (cases submitted outside these hours are handled the next day)
- Cases submitted without proper documentation will be resolved without action

 Pro Tip: Download your 8-week Excel report every Tuesday after the dashboard updates to track your defects accurately. This will show the prior week's defects and allow you to submit disputes within the required 7-business-day window.
